(Kinston, NC) The Caswell Center Foundation is pleased to announce that Ms. Vita Roberts and Ms. Kara Robertson were each recently awarded $1,000 scholarships from the Foundation to pursue their educational goals.

Ms. Roberts, a native of Williamston, is currently pursuing a graduate degree in physical therapy at Winston-Salem State University. After graduation she plans to work as a physical therapist serving adults and children with developmental disabilities. In addition to her studies and leadership roles on campus, Ms. Roberts has been an active community volunteer for such organizations as the Special Olympics, Red Cross, Big Brother/Big Sister, and the Girl Scouts. She was also a volunteer in the physical therapy clinic at Martin General Hospital.

Ms. Robertson, a native of Hampstead, recently graduated from Topsail High School where she was a teacher's assistant in the autistic room. She plans to attend the University of North Carolina at Greensboro and major in special education. Upon graduation from college, Ms. Robertson intends to teach children with developmental disabilities. Active in her community, Ms. Robertson has volunteered her services to the Special Olympics and the Crooked Creek Younglife Camp as well as serving as coach for the Upward Basketball program.

Established in 1999, the Caswell Center Foundation, Inc. is a 501(c) (3) non-profit organization that enhances the quality of life for individuals and their families with mental retardation and developmental disabilities in eastern North Carolina.
